Michèle Heibel

I created this collection of works in the hope that viewers will be able to step from artwork to artwork recognising and celebrating, or perhaps noticing for the first time, the beauty that surrounds us here in the Hunter. As I worked on this series I quickly came to realise that there will never be a final work, and that the list of special places I would like to capture here on Wonnarua Country will never be exhausted.

My work considers resilience through seemingly fragile yet resilient silver forms that echo life emerging after drought.

Unfolding as they return to life, each piece reflects renewal as gradual and uncertain. Reticulated surfaces bear witness to heat and endurance, while silver's soft glow holds both strength and vulnerability. Water-cast droplets preserve fleeting moments, shaped by memory of the first rain - the scent of earth, a quiet release. These sculptures exist at the edge of change, where dryness yields and life begins again.

Will Maguire

Will's practice was established in 2009 after several years as a journeyman working with renowned blacksmiths in the UK, Ukraine, Russia, Japan, USA and Europe. He is a qualified blacksmith and boiler maker, with further training in design and botanical drawing. He has received an Arts degree with distinction in Philosophy, and first-class Honours in material Anthropology studying the liveliness of iron in 2025.

Today, the workshop is a repurposed dairy in the beautiful NSW Hunter Valley where he designs and makes original works for galleries and the often quirky places of interesting people.
